One Data: We Connect Data to Unlock Your Business Value

One Data is a fast-growing software company based out of Germany. Our mission is to enable data experts to build data products that business users need.

By using our software and highly experienced team, data experts can collaborate across different data silos in a rapid, automated, and quality guaranteed way. This enables our customers to successfully find new ways to operationalize and monetize their data assets to make reliable forward-looking decisions according to best practices.

One Data allows data teams to act on modern data management concepts like Data Mesh or Data Fabric to scale data across the business.

The core element of our solution is an interactive map that gives data experts full visibility across all relevant data sources. Our patented record linkage algorithms and automated workflows provide deeper insights on ownership, quality, and connectivity of the different data sources. The results are trustworthy, understandable, and easy-to-access data products that provide value for the business.

Continuous growth

One Data is an owner-managed company, with a management team that includes Dr. Andreas Böhm, Dr. Stefan Roskos and Dr. Gregor Wiest. Our growing team of over 300 employees works at locations in Passau, Munich, Frankfurt/M and Berlin.
